> Ropella Industry Expertise

There is no room for error in developing thermoset polymers, as once they are cured they can no longer be melted and remolded into something else. This is in stark contrast to thermoplastics, which can be remolded repeatedly. However, this process imbues thermoset polymers with a number of other advantages, including being a more cost-effective process, and end products that are stronger and more resistant to heat and corrosion, all thanks to the cross-linking patterns that develop during curing.

Ropella 360's mission is to build lasting relationships between high-potential a-player talent, backable executives, board members, SMEs and transformational leaders. Our primary goal; providing ROI value towards growing the great companies we invest our time, talent and treasure into.
