> Ropella Industry Expertise

The chlor-alkali production process is a deceptively simple one, utilizing a feedstock similar to the most prevalent resource on our planet: salt water. This brine goes through electrolysis in a membrane or diaphragm cell, turning the salt (2NaCl) and water ($2\text{H}_2\text{O}$) into chlorine (Cl_2), hydrogen (H_2), and caustic soda (2NaOH). These resultant products are used in the creation of everything from toothpaste to ceramic glaze. Most importantly, they are cleaning agents which can be utilized for household soaps and detergents, to disperse oil spills, and as a combatant against acid rain.

Ropella 360's mission is to build lasting relationships between high-potential a-player talent, backable executives, board members, SMEs and transformational leaders. Our primary goal; providing ROI value towards growing the great companies we invest our time, talent and treasure into.

Building teams worldwide, in all functional areas and at all levels, with the best possible talent is one of the highest priorities for transformational leaders – because we all know – the team with the best talent wins. Especially so, in fast growing organizations.
